NEWS

Hello Families!

- We are having our next SSC meeting next Monday, January 25 at 6pm. We will continue with our work around large-scale fundraising, discuss school safety, and begin to strategize around preventing budget cuts. Please come!
- There is no school next Friday 1/29—it is a staff development day. Staff at SF Community will be going on a two-day professional development retreat on Friday and Saturday.
- We want to be sure that everyone has seen the news regarding cadmium, a toxic substance, in some jewelry made for children and sold at Wal-Mart and Claire's. The news was reporting last week that families should not allow children to have jewelry purchased at these stores until the jewelry items containing the toxic substances have been replaced with safe ones. See Mary for more details.

STRONG INDIVIDUALS

We support our students to be strong individuals through the following classroom activities:

2nd/3rd: Students in Becky's class have been learning how to solve story problems. They have been using diagrams to help them think through what the problem is asking them to solve.

Middle School: Today is the first day of the second semester for middle school students.

Middle School P.E.: Students in Eric's PE classes are working on doing team stunts, like building pyramids. They do this to practice working as a team!

Report Cards: You can expect to see your child's report card mailed to your home sometime between Jan. 26 and Feb. 5, depending on the grade level.
